DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Karell et al (US 5888199) [hereinafter Karell I] in view of Karell (US 5334212) [hereinafter Karell II].

3. Karell I discloses an ear cleaning device having a base 22 that attaches to a syringe 50, a curved flexible catheter tip 16, a depth shield attachment 18, and a rounded tip 12. See Figs. 1 and 2.

4. Claim 1 calls for the body to comprise wings able to screw into the syringe. At the time the invention was made, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to connect the catheter to the syringe by any known means. Applicant has not disclosed that having wings to screw into the syringe serves any advantage or particular purpose or solves a stated problem. Furthermore, one of ordinary skill would expect the device of Karell I and applicant's invention to perform equally well with either a screw fit or a friction fit. Therefore, it would have been prima facie obvious to modify Karell I to obtain the invention as specified in claim 1 because such a modification would have been considered a mere design consideration which fails to patentably distinguish over the prior art.

5. Claim 1 further differs from Karell I in calling for depth markers at regular intervals. Karell II teaches an ear cleaning device having depth markers 22 that allow the position of the safety insertion depth stopper to be adjusted to vary the depth of insertion (Col. 1, lines 35-43). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to modify the device of Karell I to have depth markers as taught by Karell II to allow the position of the safety insertion depth stopper to be adjusted to vary the depth of insertion.
